

Trade Mission 2009

This year's mission is the fifth in a series of annual missions, which started in 2005. Our missions cover a wide range of objectives educational, cultural and economical ones, besides our main focus at CEBC which is deepening trade and investment ties in the context of Egyptian-Canadian relationship.

Trade Mission Objectives:

- Promoting Egypt in Canada, to inform the Canadian community with its different stakeholders (ranging from business community to parliamentarians to government officials to academic institutions to aid donors and to Canadians of Egyptian origin) on the latest developments that have taken place in Egypt on the political and economic fronts.
- Enhancing Trade and Investment Relations in different fields.
- Cooperation in specific fields, where Egypt can benefit from the Canadian experience.
- Help in solving some of the social problems that face Canadians of Egyptian origin in issues related to voting in elections, passport issuing, etc.

Trade Mission Benefits:

- Raising the Profile and Increasing Publicity
- Sharing Experience & Knowledge
- Increase Networking Opportunities
- Reducing Costs Through Group Travel & Grant.
